Easter 2021

Devotionals from Pastor Sell

Tuesday, April 20

The tree by the house is covered with delicate white flowers and the weeping cherry branches are dancing in the wind. I stood and watched for several minutes and then saw the bees and other pollinators darting back and forth gathering pollen and spreading it from flower to flower.

Christians are called to be pollinators too. We are called to share the good news of Jesus life, death, and resurrection as we go about our daily lives. We may be tempted to think we need to carry a Bible around and quote scripture but it is much more than that. Jesus, at the Last Supper, gave a new commandment: “To love one another as I have loved you.” Sharing the Good News is about how we treat people. Sharing the good news is about how we live our lives.
