Devotionals from Pastor Sell

I am not usually a fan of reality adventure shows on TV but recently I tripped across Running Wild with Bear Grylls in Iceland. I have traveled in Iceland so I decided to watch. Bear and his 6'4" 240lb companion named Terry were climbing insane mountains, crossing fast running flood plains, eating foul smelling dried shark meat, and jumping out of airplanes. It was 3 days of craziness.

As I watched I got to wondering about the camera man who was filming all this. As bad as it looked for Bear and Terry it must have been a LOT worse for the camera man. He had to lug huge cameras and recording equipment and then get into position to film the action. The camera man must have faced greater challenges and dangers than the two men on screen.

In life's journey we tend to focus on our personal challenges and forget others face more difficult life issues. Thankfully Jesus understands all the challenges of life and walks with us through them all. Let's pray for all who struggle with life issues and offer help where we can.
