A division of the Wilbur Chocolate company is located in Mount Joy. From time to time when I leave my house the sweet smell of chocolate comes wafting my way. What a wonderful way to start the day. You would laugh if you saw me standing by the car door breathing it in. That smell of chocolate has the same effect as the smell of fresh bread coming out of the oven, or roses still wet with dew. We take it in and it fills us with satisfaction.

The bread and wine of communion is like that. Jesus comes close to us in a very special way that refreshes and renews us. There is something special about being with others as we share this sacred meal. Jesus comes to us, personally. He becomes part of us. Communion reminds us of something unseen but very real and meaningful.
