

Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church

Connecting with God; Connecting with Others; Connecting others with God

Pastor Melody Sell, Interim Pastor
85 E. Brandt Boulevard
Landisville, PA 17538
(717) 898-2911 (o)
(570) 916-8835 (c)
prmsell2@ptd.net

DAILY DEVOTIONAL FROM PASTOR SELL

Wednesday, December 29

This morning (12/20) it is 21 degrees, and the front window of my car is frosted over. As I sat waiting for the defroster to work, I studied the ice crystals as they made feathery spirals across the window. Crazy person that I am, I wondered what kind of frost I was looking at. I knew about hoar frost turning trees and plants to a winter wonderland. I knew about plant frost and dew frost and dense crystal frost, but this was different. I learned it was a special type of window frost which only forms with the right temperature and dew point. Who would have guessed? What a wonderful creative and imaginative God we have who enjoys enchanting us with so many kinds of frost.