DAILY DEVOTIONAL FROM PASTOR SELL

Friday, February 11

A 2018 report by the Barna Group indicated only 13% of regular church goers had a spiritual conversation once a week. Some of the reasons people gave include: 1. Not wanting to cause tension and 2. Concern that religion had become politized. Then, there is the old saw we hear before Thanksgiving reminding us to keep the peace by not talking about religion and politics.

We learn from sharing our ideas and experiences of faith. We grow when we hear the story of faith during tragedy or loss. A mountain top event shared with others can give them strength for the journey. Don't be afraid talk about your faith with others.
