

Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church

Connecting with God; Connecting with Others; Connecting others with God

Pastor Melody Sell, Interim Pastor
85 E. Brandt Boulevard
Landisville, PA 17538
(717) 898-2911 (o)
(570) 916-8835 (c)
prmsell2@ptd.net

---

DAILY DEVOTIONAL FROM PASTOR SELL

Thursday, July 22

As I drove to church one Sunday, I observed a number of transportation modes headed through Mount Joy. I followed a buggy pulled by a magnificent black horse. I passed a man on a bicycle. A little further down, a man ran along the side of the road. A buggy, a car, a bicycle, and a runner -- three different modes of transportation, all good, all traveling in the same direction. One may get to their destination sooner than the others, but they are all good and useful.

God in his wisdom has created many different people. We all have different talents and abilities; each person has value and much to contribute to the whole of society. The garbage collector is just as important as the president of a large company. The small child with little life experience has as much to give to the community as an older person with much experience. We are all in this journey of life together. Jesus recognized this and called disciples – fisherman, tax collectors, and others. They journeyed together and changed the world.