Devotionals from Pastor Sell

Tuesday, May 18

I have been mulching and mulching. I hope it will be done in the next moth or so. I have learned something through all the mulching. I started out with 45-pound bags, then moved to 52-pound bags. The bags I moved tonight were 56.2 pounds and I found I could move them around well. What once was an effort has, over time, become easier. I guess I have been building muscle. I will not, however, try for 60 pounds.

Faith when it is exercised becomes stronger. When we walk through a storm, it is easier to handle the next. What seemed impossible years at ago thirty is quite doable at forty-five. Faith needs to be maintained and strengthened. Regular worship attendance, scripture study, prayer, and outreach are essential to make faith strong and vibrant.
